

Retention payments

194. Where any contract for the supply of goods or services before the effective date provides for the retention of any part of the consideration by a person pending full and satisfactory performance of the contract, or any part of it, by the supplier, the retention payment in respect of any supply made on or after the effective date shall be chargeable to tax.