

Retention payments

7. Where any contract for the supply of goods or services provides for the retention of any part of the consideration by a person pending full and satisfactory performance of the contract, or any part of it, by the supplier, a supply shall be treated as taking place when a payment is received in respect of it or a tax invoice is issued by the supplier, whichever is the earlier.